About IFEES

IFEES is a network designed to enhance global engineering education through collaboration between educational, corporate and other organizations interested in engineering education. IFEES works to establish effective, high quality engineering education processes in order to assure a global supply of engineering graduates.

Currently, over 50 engineering education societies and corporate partners take advantage of the IFEES membership benefits including significant global exposure, networking with cutting-edge thinkers and practitioners, and make a positive contribution to engineering education worldwide. View our full member value proposition at ifees.net/members/member-value-proposition.

Our Mission

IFEES connects engineering education societies around the world to leverage our members' collective strengths to improve engineering education worldwide.

IFEES Supported Organizations and Initiatives

GEDC

IFEES provides the infrastructure for the Global Engineering Deans Council, a leadership body of engineering deans and rectors from across the world.

Learn about the GEDC at GEDCouncil.org

IIDEA

The International Initiative for Developing Engineering Academics is the capacity building arm of IFEES that facilitates workshops worldwide and webinars on engineering education.

Learn more about IIDEA at IFEES.net/iidea

Students

Student engagement, such as through BEST, SCALE and SPEED acts as a balancing force amongst the wide ranging experience of IFEES members with innovative ideas from the next generation of engineering minds.

Project ECHO

Project ECHO is a revolutionary guided-practice model that reduces health disparities in under-served and remote areas of the world. In collaboration with Peace Engineering, Project ECHO is the intentional application of systemic-level thinking of science, technology and engineering principles to directly promote and support conditions for peace.
